Jeffries Goes East and Johnson
Is on His Way After Champion.

AUSTRALIANS WILL BID
HIGH FOR BIG FIGHT

Seattle May Grab Contest if
Jeffries Decides to Box
This Summer.

James J. Jeffries will soon be in the heart of the east, where he will have to commit himself in regard to a fight with Jack Johnson. Jeffries was in Ogden last Saturday, and when asked regarding a fight, was still firm in his talk that he would not fight again. But this is not taken seriously by the fans. Jeffries, or any other fighter, cannot well afford to turn down the big offers that have been and are being made for a fight between Jeffries and Johnson for the heavyweight title.

A fight between these two men would attract a great deal of attention, and it is doubtful whether any of the governors would allow the contest to be held in their respective states. If the fight will go through in California, that state will be put out of the running. It is probable that the fight could be pulled off at Seattle any time during the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition; in fact, a $200,000 purse already has been offered for the contest.

Jeffries and Johnson are no doubt figuring upon a remunerative campaign on the stage, and to the close observer it appears that the two men will follow each other around the world and will land in Australia, where the big fight is to finally take place. Jeffries has already started for the east, and after a few weeks' touring on the theater circuits, will leave for Europe. Johnson is planning the same kind of a stunt, a la Tommy Burns. In this way the two fighters will be able to clear up at least from $150,000 to $200,000, outside of any money they would make in the ring.

After the men have been around the world, the Australians would be ripe to see another big go. The Burns-Johnson fight, it is said, totaled the promoters $100,000 at the gates. A fight between Jeffries and Johnson would easily increase this amount to $200,000, the bulk of which would go to Jeffries, as he will never consider a proposition unless he gets the big end of the purse, no matter how the fight goes.

WITH YUSSIFF MAHMOUD

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Frank Gotch, the champion wrestler of the world, and Yussiff Mahmoud have been matched and will meet here about April 14. The match will be for the world's championship, the title Gotch won from Hackenschmidt last April.

The purse is said to be $10,000, with the division yet to be decided upon. Mahmoud has defeated Fred Reel, Raoul de Rouen, Tom Jenkins, Charles Owen, and many others since coming to this country.

MANTELL AND SULLIVAN WILL LEAVE FOR WEST

Frank Mantell and Kid Williams of Stockton will box twenty rounds before the Buffalo Athletic club at Sacramento, Cal., on March 26. Williams is said to be a comer, but as Mantell is improving every day Williams will have to be out of the ordinary in the boxing line to shine with the Fall River writer. The men will weigh in at 145 pounds at 3 p. m. on the day of the contest. Manager Joe Richardson of the club has sent Mantell a ticket, and he will leave today if the transportation arrives.

Pete Sullivan may also go to the Pacific coast. Since defeating "Cyclone" Thompson, Sullivan is wanted in several parts of the country for matches, but as the coast seems to be the Klondike for fighters at present, Sullivan will probably go with Mantell. Sullivan has a very good record, and is confident he can defeat McFarland, the men to weigh in at 145 pounds.

Lucky Finishers.

President Nevins of Detroit says: "I think some of the American league teams were lucky to finish as close to us as they did last year. The Tigers struck a slump late in the season, and the team was broken up so badly that our once safe lead was seriously jeopardized. But we are going out to win another, and I think with the team we have now we can do it. The other men will of course, I can't say, but good reports come with most of them. Chicago is the team we always figure we must beat to win the championship. I think we can, all right."

Question of Betting.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 28.—Whether or not ring-side betting shall be banned from Texas race tracks will be the question at issue before the Texas senate this week. Tomorrow two reports on the bill recently passed by the house, prohibiting race betting, will be presented.

CHAMPION SPRINTERS
ARRIVE FOR RACES

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Ten of the European competitors who are entered in the international six-day go-as-you-please team race at Madison Square Garden, March 8 to 13, arrived today from France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Ireland and England.

Many other countries will be represented in the race. The most novel of the teams is that of the favorite tribe of the Philippines. The distinctive, semi-civilized natives can run for hours without resting.

Practically all the noted six-day men are entered, and there will also be a military and letter carriers, and an Indian team.

Fred Appleby, the English runner, the only man in England who defeated Alfred Shrubbs in a distance race, also arrived. He is here to enter some of the ten-mile, fifteen-mile and Marathon distance races.

After Good Shaving.

Manager Cantillon of the Washington club says: "The Washington club looks great to me. I think we will make the best showing ever made by a Capital City team. Our pitching staff is as strong as anybody's and the other departments are strong and well balanced. Some of the depositions have started giving Cleveland the pennant again. What the Washingtons did to Cleveland last season was a sin, and we will be right there after them again. We have got it on that bunch and will continue to trim them next season. Cleveland won't win any pennant, and you can make the team as strong as you like. I only wish that all of our 134 games were with Cleveland."

Aero Club Entries.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—The Aero club has received three entries from the English Aero club, one from the United States and one from Italy, for the James Gordon Bennett aviator cup, to be contested for August 5.

SANCTION IS SECURED FOR BIG AUTO RACE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Automobile Club of America has sanctioned the proposed transcontinental automobile race which the management of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition proposes to hold during the coming summer between some points on the Atlantic seaboard and Seattle, Wash.

A handsome trophy has been offered for the race by M. Robert Guichenot, and, in addition, substantial cash prizes will be given to drivers. Entries comprising the principal automobile makes of France, Italy, Germany, Great Britain, Belgium and the United States are expected. Much the same regulations as those governing such contests as the Targa Florio and Ardennes circuit races likely will prevail.

FIGHT FANS WILLING TO BACK ABE ATTELL

Will Put Up $15,000 That
Champion Can Defeat
Driscoll.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The fight fans of this city stand ready to back Abe Attell against Jim Driscoll for a side bet of $15,000. In the recent ten-round go between the two men, Driscoll was given the decision on account of outpointing Attell. The latter says that he never took the fight seriously at any time. He knew he could not stop Driscoll in ten rounds but by accident, and did not really force things as he would do if the match was for the championship. Attell says that if Driscoll will make 122 pounds ringside, the featherweight limit, he can stop Driscoll in less than twenty rounds and has got the money to say that he can. Attell will probably remain in this city and meet several of the lesser lights. He will box Tommy O'Toole at Philadelphia tomorrow night. Driscoll will return from England in the near future and promises to give Attell a go for the title.

Right Up in Line.

Manager Lake of the Boston Red Sox says:

"With a team of fast youngsters who have their careers before them instead of behind them, I think the Red Sox will be right up in the pennant hunt every step of the way. A long list of new players will be taken to Hot Springs for the early training there. I think two or three good ones—sorking men—will be taken to Hot Springs. We have good ones in that bunch. We have been criticized in some quarters for letting Criger and Young go. But wait and see. We will do better than last year, when we had those two great players. And we are going to do a whole lot better. None of them has got anything on us."

ONLY A REPORTER

Only a mere reporter sat at a ringside seat. He'd a pair of eyes, a pair of ears and a set of feet complete. But he didn't write with said feet. Nor with half an eye or half an ear. Did he scribble the copy sheet? For he wasn't an expert yet.

Not yet, but he could see things that happened on the roped platform. Only a mere reporter, he wrote what he saw and heard. He wrote what he knew and felt. He wrote with a simple touch. He didn't write too much. His pen was a pen, not a crutch. For he wasn't an expert yet.

Not yet, but he knew how to tell what he saw and put it in the papers. Only a mere reporter, he wrote for the people to read. And they read his copy with greed. They liked the lay of his creed. Though 'twas very simple indeed, But wholesome as barley meal. For he wasn't an expert yet.

Not yet, but he could describe things that happened instead of dreaming of things that never were. Only a mere reporter, he had but a simple taste: Never chose lemons in haste; Rather looked on them as waste; Yet, his style was simple and chaste; Which he admitted a little shame-faced. For he wasn't an expert yet.

Not yet, but he knew a lemon when he saw one on da Dago man's wagon or in the ring. Only a mere reporter, he waited for talent to show. To appear in at least one go. Though this gave him no chance to crow In a violent lanky flow. Verily, nay, not, no. For he wasn't an expert yet.

Not yet, but he knew what a stiff punch on the slats meant while the crowd yelled at an open palm swat. Only a mere reporter, he failed to see Boshter Bill Before he'd been boxed in one mill. Before he'd achieved one kill. No, he couldn't produce a thrill For that said MacSherry spill. For he wasn't an expert yet.

Not yet, but he could tell what was going to happen, Little Boy Blue, when Sailor Burke, the pirate, would let go. Only a mere reporter, he figured that Johnson could fight; That the negro had really some might And a punch in both left and right. Why? Because Johnson DID fight. Alas! Yes, he'd been in a fight— But the scribe wasn't expert yet.

Not yet, but what's the difference in the color of a man's cuticle if he has the wallop that brings home the bacon? Only a mere reporter, he described Jim Driscoll's game While wise ones thought Jim was tame, But Jim is ahead alike same. Marto and Cross and Attell of fame Are laid out, all subdued and tame— But the scribe is not expert yet.

Not yet, but he knows a bunged eye and a battered head and can count jobs that land and note haymakers that might be good if they hit anything.—By Felix O'Dougherty in New York World.

SEVERAL THOUSAND PEOPLE SEE PLAYERS

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

OGDEN, Feb. 28.—With the engine gaily decorated with national flags and bunting, the White Sox special arrived in Ogden this afternoon at 1:35 o'clock and, after half an hour's stop for the change of engines and crew, pulled out for the east over the Southern Pacific. Several thousand people greeted the players.

The solid vestibuled train was made up of seven coaches including a diner, baggage and sleeping cars. President Charles Comiskey, the veteran baseball magnate, was in charge of the athletes. Including newspaper men, photographers and members of the players' families, the passenger list numbered sixty-one. Thirty-six of this number are baseball players. E. O. Marks, a member of the team, who has been living at Twin Falls, joined the party here. The train was taken charge of here by Conductor "Dad" Gimlin, well known in Utah baseball circles, who will go as far as Montello, N.Y.

Will Stop Some.

Manager McAleer of St. Louis Browns says:

"The Browns made them all stop some last year, but we will be far better in 1909. I think Criger's presence behind the bat will add at least 15 per cent to our playing strength. There are no better backstops than Lou, and getting such a man means a tremendous advantage to us. We thought we were going to get 'Cy' Young, too, but fell down on the deal. There is a great deal of uncertainty about the American league race. Every team except Boston has been improved. Perhaps they have, too, but I don't think so."

New Fish Hatchery.

Sunday the Mountain Trout company of Murray, placed automobiles at the disposal of all those who wished to inspect its hatchery in the vicinity of Murray, and a great many people visited the establishment. The hatchery is a fine one, and the company has three assistants who showed the visitors through the establishment, explaining the various modes of hatching and the different assortments of fish.

Exposition That Will Demonstrate
Wonderful Resources of Alaska

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—"In natural resources—by that I mean everything Alaska has, the richest territory in the United States," said James L. Farmer of the department of the interior, who is preparing the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, which opens at Seattle, Washington, June 1, and closes October 15, of the present year. Farmer has had active experience in the preparation of government exhibits at the expositions held during the last several years. In this connection he gave assurances that the exhibit which will be made by Alaska will in itself be an exposition worth going thousands of miles to see.

"We will present to the visitors to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, in an attractive manner as possible, the resources and products of Alaska. The purpose will be to show the world that Alaska is no longer a place where only the Eskimo and Indian can live. Except in the far northern parts the climate is not nearly so severe as it is in the Dakotas, Montana, and Minnesota. The development of the resources of Alaska is still in its infancy, and the mineral that has been taken out of the ground in the past few years represents but a small part of the total that will be taken out in the next ten years. But aside from minerals there is no limit to the agricultural possibilities of the territory. And it should not be forgotten that Alaska has good schools and churches for the white people, and the white man can live as comfortably and contentedly in Alaska as he can in the states.

Diversions of Exhibits.

"The Alaska building will be ample in size and have a floor space of 24,174 square feet, thus insuring plenty of exhibit space. The exhibit space will be divided among the following exhibits: Mines and minerals (which will be in the gold exhibit pavilion), fish and fisheries, agriculture, horticulture and forestry, ethnology and Indian work, furs, transportation, education—white schools, education—Indian schools, women's work and art, miscellaneous and classified exhibits. Among the special features will be a panorama, lecture room and relief map.

"In our mineral exhibit will be found gold, silver, copper, tin, lead, coal, petroleum, gypsum, tungsten, antimony, quicksilver, graphite, etc. It is the intention to have every mine now being worked, and every coal and prospect represented. The system of labeling will enable every visitor to easily and quickly obtain reliable information relative to the mineral industry. In connection with the mineral exhibit we will have the services of an expert mineralogist.

Yellow Metal a Feature.

"You know that it was gold that focused the eyes of the world on Alaska, and the yellow metal will be especially featured. In the center of the building

INAUGURATION OF TAFT WILL BE WEEK'S BIG EVENT

All other events of the week will be overshadowed by the inauguration of Washington by William Howard Taft. Twenty-seventh president of the United States. On Thursday, while Taft graces the ball that will bring the inaugural program to a brilliant close, Mr. Roosevelt, relieved of the burdens of state, will be surrounded by his neighbors at Oyster Bay, and Mr. Bryan will be the guest of honor at a dollar-dinner in Pittsburgh.

On Monday the senate committee on judiciary will vote on the report of the commission which investigated the merger of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company with the United States Steel corporation. Two reports will be considered. The majority report declares the merger to have been illegal, and that the president was unauthorized to permit it. The minority report finds that the legality or illegality of the absorption is for the courts to decide, and that the president in no sense "permitted" the merger. The point of interest will be whether the retiring president is to be absolved or officially blamed.

The London suffragettes will continue their efforts to bring public attention to their cause. Most of the leaders are at present in jail, but their lieutenants will not be deterred, and advances on the lines of common sense and further conflicts with the police are expected.

"Fish Tail" Is Cause of Poor
Score; Finch Surprises
Trap Shooters.

Notwithstanding the fine weather Sunday, it was a hard day to make good rifle scores, and the shooters felt far below their averages. The surprise of the day was the defeat of Letchford by Taylor by the fraction of one-thirtieth of a point for the high average. Taylor also made the high score, securing 45 points.

The riflemen said that a "fish tail" wind blew, which is considered the trickiest wind that visits rifle ranges, and record scores are impossible under such conditions.

The individual scores were as follows:

Score	Per cent
Taylor	59 50 53 79 76
Letchford	56 58 67 77 75
Stenzel	57 64 67 75 75
May Purvance	56 57 52 56 55
Benton	43 55 55 55 55

Only a few members of the Salt Lake Gun club took part in the bluecock practice. The surprise of the day was the shooting of Elmer Finch. It was his first attempt at target shooting, and after missing the first nine he shot at and broke twenty-eight out of a possible forty gets. "Ninety-nine" Mills, in his first attempt, missed his first thirty-four targets before he broke one. Finch broke eight out of ten in one of his runs.
